Welcome

Welcome to Moore Barlow – we're here to help.

In business and in life, opportunities, challenges and sometimes life-changing situations can come your way at any time, and it's often how quickly and effectively you respond to those that can determine the best outcomes.

Whatever your circumstances, be it for business or in your private life, our aim is to guide you through the legal complexities, to adapt to fast-changing circumstances, and to anticipate the unknown as far as possible.

We have one goal in mind – to guide you to wherever you want to be, and to deliver the best outcome for your specific needs or circumstances.

Whatever your situation, come and talk to us – we're ready to help.

Who we are

There's more to law than lawyers. What often gets forgotten in complex legal cases are the human beings at the heart of the matter.

At Moore Barlow, we never forget the people we represent, or their need to find the best path through the sometimes difficult and challenging situations they may face.

When you come to us, we'll look at the big picture. We'll work with you to build a complete understanding of where you are and where you want to get to. Based on that knowledge, we'll develop practical, effective solutions that help you achieve your ambitions, cutting through the complex and the unknown, and respecting your circumstances in every way.

We help people through a vast range of situations – from commercial growth opportunities, to corporate deals and restructuring, organisational change, business disputes and debt recovery, to medical compensation claims, problems and opportunities surrounding property, and inheritances and family relationships. As well as everything in between.

Our approach never varies.

It's not just words

We've built this firm from the foundations up to make good on our promises to ensure we meet your needs:

Our skills and services are broader and deeper than almost any other UK law firm. We are recognised by our peers for our specialisms in our chosen fields, and can support you across all your business and personal matters.

Our expertise and experience is focused around the kind of complex and often unwelcome challenges that life and work can bring. We're not new to this – whatever your journey, we've been there many times before, and can help.

Our culture is open, diverse and inclusive, an environment where people can thrive. We believe investing in our people is equally an investment in our clients. Ensuring everyone is valued, in turn ensures we deliver value for our clients and the highest standards of service.

What we do

At Moore Barlow, we focus on helping entrepreneurs and leaders, and private individuals and families through the opportunities, the challenges, and the sometimes life-altering circumstances that may come your way.

We've designed our firm and approach around the needs of the people we help. They fall into three groups:

Businesses and organisations

We guide leaders and owners of fast-moving companies and organisations as they negotiate major commercial challenges and opportunities, advising them on the best path forward.

Individuals and families

We help people who are searching for the best way to safeguard their assets and interests, provide for and protect their families, and bring order to their complex lives, especially when they overlap with their business affairs.

Personal injury & clinical negligence

We support people whose lives have been pushed off course by a serious accident or medical error, as they try to rebuild their futures.

Every relationship we build with a client is a journey. We agree a destination and focus on understanding the person and their situation. Then we put everything into getting them where they eventually want to be.

Businesses and organisations

It's only business - but it never is. Decision-making isn't just a matter of commercial and financial considerations. Success in business is about planning and evolving to stay ahead of customer expectations and the competition. It's also about managing human relationships – often a complex, interwoven network of loyalties and common interests.

We understand that. We'll help secure and grow your business over time, and help you resolve the human, financial and commercial complications you encounter along the way.

We work with owners and leaders of growing, ambitious organisations on the full range of isolated and interrelated issues, from mergers and acquisitions, data protection and dispute resolution to matters of insolvency, employment and immigration, helping them to cut through complexity and put their ambitions within reach.

Our approach is designed to match you with the experience and skills you need, and to form an accurate, realistic vision of the outcome you're looking for. Quickly, efficiently, discreetly, we develop an understanding of your commercial environment, business culture and management challenges, so that we can devise workable, effective solutions that get you beyond your current challenges and difficulties.

Whether it's purely a commercial matter or one with personal or family ramifications, the depth and breadth of skills and experience will help bring about a speedy, effective outcome.

Individuals and families

Our lives can be complex - often finely-spun webs of personal and business relationships, investments and arrangements. One wrong step with a life decision, major transaction or bequest and the cost might be lasting, not just to you, but to loved ones or colleagues.

We're here to help secure and protect your family, your wealth and your assets over time. Whether you come to us about wealth and care planning, children and education, divorce and separation, property or probate, or any combination of these issues, we'll adopt a highly dedicated, personal approach to your case.

We will build an in-depth and comprehensive understanding of your affairs and property, your long-term hopes and intentions, and every factor at play. Once we have that complete picture, we'll turn to developing made-to-measure strategies that will help you move forward, whether that's in securing your assets, resolving a sensitive situation or simply drafting a will.

Our range of skills and experience means we're able to handle every kind of family and personal matter with discretion and sensitivity. And working hand-in-hand with our colleagues on the commercial side, we are especially strong in complex cases affecting both personal and business interests.

Personal injury and clinical negligence

The world can suddenly seem a cruel and bewildering place to victims of serious trauma or clinical negligence. As one of the country's leading law firms in this field, we've been up close to misfortune and tragedy many times, and we know that financial settlements are just the start of putting victims' lives on a better path.

If you ever find yourself in such a position, we can get you the resources and support you need, and work with you to rebuild your life. Our services are designed to support victims in every part of their lives, from winning compensation and short-term financial assistance to working with care providers, liaising with health authorities and managing affairs once a settlement comes through.

With sensitivity and care, we'll work with you, your loved ones and carers to make sure your day-to-day needs and practicalities are taken care of, and achieve a remedy that's right for you.

Our advisors have extensive experience of cases involving serious injury and illness as a result of negligent medical care and workplace environments. They can help you find a way through the complexity and anxiety of your situation, and reach an outcome that will set you on the best possible path to move forward.
